CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

INFORMATION REPORT

This Document contains information affecting the National Defense of the United States, within the meaning of Title 18, Sections 793 and 794, of the U.S. Code, as amended. Its transmission or revelation of its contents to or receipt by an unauthorized person is prohibited by law. The reproduction of this form is prohibited.

CONFIDENTIAL

25X1A DATE OF INFO. PLACE ACQUIRED 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Urreneware	SUBJECT Communist Reaction to the Rosenberg DATE DISTR. 21 August 195 Execution NO. OF PAGES 2 REQUIREMENT NO. RD REFERENCES X1X 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a Certain teacher in the public schools of Montevidee had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has also acroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist tractive to the issue by involving.		SECURITY INFORMATION	N	25X1A
DATE OF INFO. PLACE ACQUIRES 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education, on the other hand, the Hruenavan	PACE ACQUIRE 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist teatics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attempt to cloud the issue by invoking,	COUNTRY	Uruguay	REPORT NO.
DATE OF INFO. PLACE ACQUIRED 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Urremaven	PLACE ACQUIRES 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly enti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Nortemericanos assesinos" (North American essassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attempt to cloud the issue by invoking, wannog other things, the possible threat against against payed against against such communist against against against on the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attempt to cloud the issue by invoking,	SUBJECT		DATE DISTR.	2h August 199
PLACE ACQUIRED 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly enti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos asseinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also acoused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Irruparan	PLACE ACQUIRED 1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist teatics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attempt to cloud the issue by invoking, among other things, the possible threat against academic freedom that mery	25X1A	Execution	NO. OF PAGES	2 2
1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos asesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Urupnayan	1. A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attempt to cloud the issue by invoking, among other things, the possible threat against academic freedom that may	DATE OF	INFO.	REQUIREMENT NO.	RD
 A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos asesinos" (North American assassins). The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Urrenewan 	 A new facet of local Communist propaganda on the Rosenberg theme developed recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attempt to cloud the issue by invoking, among other things, the possible threat against academic freedom that mey 	PLACE ACC	QUIREI	REFERENCES
recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos asesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan	recently, with the revelation by El Pais, a strongly anti-Communist and pro-United States newspaper, that a certain teacher in the public schools of Montevideo had used her position to disseminate among her young students anti-United States propaganda. The actual incident in question was the teacher's use in class of an acrostic poem which spelled out the words "Norteamericanos assesinos" (North American assassins). 2. The general reaction to this injection of propaganda by a public school teacher has been strong, and the teacher concerned is currently suspended on half pay, pending a more thorough investigation by the educational authorities. It would appear that this incident has aroused popular indignation against such Communist tactics and has also aroused considerable editorial comment adverse to the interest of the local Communists. It has also focused public opinion on the activities of Communists in the public school system and may result in closer scrutiny of the political ideologies of those involved in public education. On the other hand, the Uruguayan Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attempt to cloud the issue by invoking, among other things, the possible threat against academic freedom that may	X1X
	X1X among other things, the possible threat against academic freedom that may recently, with the revelation by El Pais, pro-United States newspaper, that a certar of Montevideo had used her position to dianti-United States propaganda. The actual teacher's use in class of an acrostic poer "Nortemericanos asesinos" (North American The general reaction to this injection of teacher has been strong, and the teacher on half pay, pending a more thorough inveauthorities. It would appear that this indignation against such Communist tactic editorial comment adverse to the interest also focused public opinion on the activischool system and may result in closer so of those involved in public education. Of Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attem among other things, the possible threat a	a strongly anti-Commuin teacher in the publisseminate among her you incident in question m which spelled out the assassins). propaganda by a publiconcerned is currently stigation by the educancient has aroused post and has also aroused of the local Communist in the other hand, the public conduction of the political the other hand, the public conduction the issue of the cloud the issue in the other hand, the public conduction is the public conduction is the public conduction is the public conduction is the public conduction in the public cond	unist and ic schools bung students a was the ne words c school r suspended ational considerable ets. It has the public ideologies Uruguayan by invoking.
X1	X1 ·	2. 5X1X	recently, with the revelation by El Pais, pro-United States newspaper, that a certar of Montevideo had used her position to dianti-United States propaganda. The actual teacher's use in class of an acrostic poer "Nortemericanos asesinos" (North American The general reaction to this injection of teacher has been strong, and the teacher on half pay, pending a more thorough inveauthorities. It would appear that this indignation against such Communist tactic editorial comment adverse to the interest also focused public opinion on the activischool system and may result in closer so of those involved in public education. Of Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attem among other things, the possible threat a	a strongly anti-Commuin teacher in the publisseminate among her you incident in question m which spelled out the assassins). propaganda by a publiconcerned is currently stigation by the educancient has aroused post and has also aroused of the local Communist in the other hand, the public conduction of the political the other hand, the public conduction the issue of the cloud the issue in the other hand, the public conduction is the public conduction is the public conduction is the public conduction is the public conduction in the public cond	unist and ic schools bung students a was the ne words c school r suspended ational considerable ets. It has the public ideologies Uruguayan by invoking.
X1 CONFIDENTIAL		2. 6X1X	recently, with the revelation by El Pais, pro-United States newspaper, that a certar of Montevideo had used her position to dianti-United States propaganda. The actual teacher's use in class of an acrostic poet "Nortemericanos asesinos" (North American The general reaction to this injection of teacher has been strong, and the teacher on half pay, pending a more thorough inveauthorities. It would appear that this indignation against such Communist tactic editorial comment adverse to the interest also focused public opinion on the activischool system and may result in closer so of those involved in public education. Of Communist Party (PCU) has begun its attem among other things, the possible threat a materialize from this incident.	a strongly anti-Commuin teacher in the publisseminate among her you incident in question me which spelled out the assassins). propaganda by a publiconcerned is currently stigation by the educancident has aroused post and has also aroused of the local Communisties of Communists in rutiny of the politicant the other hand, the put to cloud the issue gainst academic freedom.	unist and ic schools bung students a was the ne words c school r suspended ational considerable ets. It has the public ideologies Uruguayan by invoking.

	CONFIDENTIAL
	-2-25X1
4
25X1A	1. Comment. The once strong PCU propaganda on the continues despite their execution.	e Rosenbergs

Approved For Release 2002/07/15 : CIA-RDP80-00810A002100680005-9

CONFIDENTIAL